

Building a Successful Classroom: Proven Strategies for Primary Writing

Friday, May 10th

9:00 - 3:00

*Handouts available at - popey.ca/workshop-resources

Presenters: Jen Kelly

Workshop Goals & Objectives

- evidence—based evidence—based instructional practices, strategies, and routines to support young writers in building their writing identity, confidence, and skillset
- developing writing for authentic purposes and audiences within classroom communities

What does writing look like in Kindergarten?

Kindergarten - Create & Communicate (writing, speaking, representing)

Using oral, written, visual, and digital texts, students are expected individually and collaboratively to be able to...

- Exchange ideas and perspectives to gain understanding
- Use language to identify, create, & share ideas, feelings, opinions & preferences
- Create stories and other texts to deepen awareness of self, family, & community
- Plan and create stories and other texts for different purposes and audiences
 - *This involves experimenting with print and storytelling; supporting communication, including through stories and the use of manipulatives such as puppets, storyboards, digital tools and toys

What does writing look like in Kindergarten?

Kindergarten - Comprehend & Connect (reading, listening, viewing)

Using oral, written, visual, and digital texts, students are expected individually and collaboratively to be able to...

- Use sources of information and prior knowledge to make meaning
- · Use developmentally appropriate reading, listening, viewing strategies to make meaning
- Explore foundational concepts of print, oral, and visual texts
- Engage actively as listeners, viewers, and readers, as appropriate, to develop understanding of self, identity, community

- Recognize the importance of story in personal, family, and community identity
- Use personal experience/knowledge to connect to stories/other texts to make meaning
- Recognize the structure of story

What does writing look like in Grade !?

Grade 1 - Writing Stories

Creating imaginative writing and representations, often modelled on those they have read, heard, or viewed...

- listening to or reading stories and then discussing them: events, characters, setting, problems, solutions, word banks to describe characters, recording beginning-middle-end, retelling/dramatizing stories
- brainstorming, retelling, and writing familiar stories

BC Ministry of Education's Kindergarten ELA Curriculum

Writing in Grade 2

Personal writing

 writing that expresses connections to personal experiences, ideas, likes, and dislikes e.g., writing about family

Writing to communicate ideas and information

• informational writing and representations about non-complex topics and procedures e.g., writing about Canadian animals

Literary writing

• creating imaginative writing and representations, sometimes based on models they have read, heard, or viewed e.g., reading stories and then discussing story structure and characters; writing shared, guided, and independent stories, listening to stories/fairy tales and practicing writing stories using the same story structure or characters

Personal writing

 a variety of clear personal writing and representations that express connections to personal experiences, ideas, and opinions
 e.g., journal writing about a field trip

Writing to communicate ideas and information

• a variety of clear, easy—to—follow informational writing and representations e.g., books, reports, articles, letters that explain to/share with an audience

Literary writing

 creating a variety of imaginative writing and representations following patterns modelled from literature

e.g., writing stories on a variety of topics, discussing/developing criteria to help them shape/edit their stories; studying animals in the environment and then writing animal stories

What We Know About Writing Development

Kids need:

- explicit and sequenced instruction that helps them progress along a learning continuum
- · critical feedback that helps them know next steps
- · extensive opportunities to write on topics they care about

Advancing Literacy - Teachers College

What Topics Do You Care About?

Kids need extensive opportunities to write on topics they care about

Think of some of your favourite topics and the people, activities, places, things you do in your regular day—to—day life:

- * Hobbies & activities (yoga, birdwatching, baking, hiking, photography...)
- * Sports
- * Places you like to go
- * People you spend time with family and friends
- * Music, movies, books...

Can you come up with a list of 1-2 things from your life that you would be KEEN to write about?

Nurturing and Supporting Young Writers

- * Writing must be a predictable, daily ROUTINE
- * Children need to see themselves as writers, each with a unique IDENTITY
- * Writing is a process of DECISION-MAKING and ACTION
- * Writers need a disposition for RISK-TAKING
- * Writers need a sense of MOMENTUM to know they are growing
- * Writers work with a sense of CRAFT guiding them, and they learn craft from MENTORS
- * Teachers must ACT AS IF children are capable, competent writers

Holding these beliefs about writing will help shape our plans, actions, and responses as we support and guide young writers.

Book Making

Learning Through Language, Learning About Language

- ▶ Is developmentally appropriate. Brings a sense of PLAY to making.
- ▶ Encourages children to do bigger work and develop stamina for writing.
- Causes children to live like writers
- Makes the 'reading like writers' connection so clear.
- Helps children begin to understand the process of composition and decision—making.
- ▶ Helps children begin to understand genre, purpose & audience.

beliefs guide actions

A Teacher's Guide to Getting Started with Beginning Writers - Wood Ray & Cleaveland

Book Making

- 1. TIME conversations, demonstrations, students writing, sharing their process
- 2. SPACE deciding where they can do their best work as a writer is a decision the children can own
- 3. BLANK BOOKS lines set an expectation for print that makes some children think "I don't know how to do that, so I can't."
- 4. WRITING TOOLS Students choose from separate tubs for crayons, coloured pencils, and markers; bins for blank, pre—stapled books; ABC charts
- 5. AN IMAGE OF BOOKMAKING students know what books look like; that PEOPLE make books; a finished book is the result of someone's work to make that book taking action from ideas

Bottom Line: If children aren't TRYING to write, they aren't LEARNING to write.

A Teacher's Guide to Getting Started with Beginning Writers - Wood Ray & Cleaveland

Book Making

1. TIME

* 10-20 minutes - WRITERS' MEETING (whole class)

The teacher leads conversations, demonstrations, and inquiries connected to a unit of study.

* 30-40 minutes - INDEPENDENT WORK

The children make books

* 5—10 minutes — SHARE & REFLECTION (whole class)
Writers tell stories of process.

Extend the time for independent work a little each day

Engagement

There is a difference between engagement and compliance. Our goal is engagement.

- * Talk about yourself as an engaged writer.
- * Help students identify how to engage an audience.
- * Teach students how to choose an engaging genre.

If we value something, we talk about it with our students.

Our enthusiasm for writing is contagious. Spread it to your students and see them flourish.

Choice of Genre

Craft and Process Studies - Glover

Increasing engagement through choice of genre.

- * Ask students, "what is your favourite topic to write about?"
- * Modelling 'think aloud,' explain your favourite topic to write about and all the different genres you can choose to write
- a small moment story about my cat
- A poem about cats
- A labeled diagram of a cat
- A 'how to' book about taking care of cats
- An information book about cats

Teaching with Mentor Texts

What is a mentor text?

A well-crafted text that you show students to help them see how they can better craft their writing and use conventions.

- * Creative people in all fields have mentors.
- * Students learn reading and writing are interconnected.
- * Mentor texts help you teach writing descriptively, instead of prescriptively.
- * Mentor texts help students teach themselves about writing.

What are you doing as a writer to make your writing better?

How to Be a Better Writing Teacher workshop - Anderson & Glover

Teaching with Mentor Texts

Immersion Phase:

2-4 days at the beginning of the unit we will study our stack of mentor texts.

- * Students get to know the stack of texts (just enough)
- * Teachers can use the mentor texts in mini lessons without having to read them again (time saving!)
- * Students become better at reading like a writer over time.

Immersion allows students to get better at noticing what author's do and trying it out.

You may need to start with modelling noticing during immersion.

How to Be a Better Writing Teacher workshop - Anderson & Glover

Teaching with Mentor Texts

Structure for Immersion Phase:

Having immersion days will make teaching much clearer and much easier.

- * First read through all the texts for enjoyment and sense of story.
- * Do 'noticing' as a whole group, then put them into partners to notice.
- * Model how you, the teacher, will add to your writing based on what you are noticing.

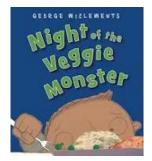

Taking the time at the beginning of each unit will save you time in the long run!

Writing About Our Lives - Small Moments

 the good news is that inside a big watermelon topic, there are a TON of tiny seed stories that we can write about · Here's an example of a personal seed story...

Advancing Literacy - Teachers College

A Small Moments Cat Story

The Pix and the Mouse

One morning I let my cat named Pix outside. He was waiting at the door to be let in. I didn't notice that he had a live mouse in his mouth when he came in. I screamed and Pix dropped the mouse. The mouse ran around the house. I finally got him outside.

A Small Moments Cat Story

Pix and the Mouse

One sunny morning before I started work, I let Pix outside to get some fresh air. When he came back inside, I didn't notice that he had a squiggly, scared mouse in his mouth. I was so surprised that I screamed and that caused Pix to drop the mouse and run upstairs. The mouse started to run around the house. I grabbed the broom and dustpan. The mouse ran behind the oven and I finally had him cornered. I carefully scooped him up and put him outside.

A Small Moments Cat Story

Pix and the mouse

"Eeek," I screamed when Pix, the cat, came inside the house with a squiggly mouse in his mouth. I had let him out that morning and I guess he thought he would bring in a new 'toy' to play with in the house. I shouted, "Pix, what are you doing?" I guess I scared him with my shouting, so he dropped the mouse and scampered upstairs. I started running after the mouse, clop, clop, clop. Finally, I had him cornered behind the oven. He looked so small and scared, I felt a little sorry for him. I carefully scooped him up into a dustpan and ran outside. Whew, what an exciting way to start the day!

- think about our big ____ topic My Cats
- make your own \int story that came out of our big \bigcirc topic
- list out different seeds or ideas for your story ... count out each idea across your fingers

Strengths of the writer

What do you notice about this student's writing? What can this student do?

What would be his next small nudge? What would you teach in a conference?

The only way we can find out what is the next small step is if we can find out what he can do on his own.

Honouring Approximations

Looks like:

Taking a child's writing and seeing all they CAN do, not what they CAN'T

Looks like:

Believing that young kids are writers and NOT doing their writing for them

Looks like:

Adults feeling comfortable with children's approximations so that children also feel comfortable

Creating Purpose

Connect Writing Workshop to other familiar times in the day and their purpose.

- * Center time = explore & play
- * Recess = outside to play, run
- * Writing Workshop = make books

Some children don't believe they know how to write, and so the verb MAKE is more inclusive and inviting

In Your Classroom

Big Idea... Writing workshop is a time every day when you make books

- * Compare to other time of the day children already know (centers, lunch, recess)
- * Show children a picture of someone who is an author and illustrator alongside a book that person has made (Eric Carle) Show children books made by other children. Read one!	2

POPEY

In Your Classroom

Big Idea... People make books by drawing the pictures and writing the words

- * Show and talk about the tools you have available for making books
- * Show children photographs of other children making books
- * Use share time to talk about how children put words and pictures in their books

Craft and Process Studies - Glover

In Your Classroom

Big Idea... Making books is a process that happens over time

- * Ask children questions about what they plan to do next in their books
- * As a whole class or in pairs, invite children to think with each other about what else they might do in their books
- * As you observe children at work, look for those who are "going back in" to their books and invite them to share

Teaching Writing Supports Reading

1. Early writing helps children crack the reading code

Blending and segmenting

2. The first words children read are often what they write

Early writing builds reading confidence

- 3. Writing gives children a head start on concepts of print
- 4. Writing is a brainpower workout
- 5. Writing is a useful assessment of reading ability

Five Reasons Why Writing Helps Early Reading

Foundational Literacy Skills

Writing

Reading

Use pictures and words to show what I want to say

Understand words and pictures show what the author is saying

Stretch out words to hear the sounds

Sound out the words, by thinking of the sounds that go with each other

Place words next to each other Read each word, noticing how they (with spaces) to share a whole idea come together to share a whole idea

Craft using fancy print, punctuation,Pay attention when a book uses fancy and special words to make my print, punctuation, or special words pop words to notice author's craft
